Disability Law Group August Newsletter

Did you serve or live on Camp Lejeune between 1953 to 1987?

If so, you may be entitled to financial compensation!

August is National Water Quality Month!

What are PFAS? PFAS or 'forever chemicals' are chemicals that were used on military installations to fight fires and conduct training. These chemicals have been found at over 700 military installations around the country. The biggest of which has been at Camp Lejeune. If you served at camp Lejeune between 1953 and 1987 for 30 days or more, then you may be entitled to compensation!

At Disability Law Group, we want to help you! Contact us today to see if you qualify. You may be one short phone call away from the financial compensation you deserve!

August 10th marks the first day Agent Orange was used in Vietnam

August 10th was Agent Orange Awareness Day

Agent Orange was a herbicide used in the Vietnam War by the United States. Since then, some individuals that came into contact with it have developed severe medical diseases.

To qualify for Agent Orange disability you must have an illness caused by Agent Orange and also have served in a location that exposed you to Agent Orange.

If you or a loved one have been denied by the VA regarding an Agent Orange case, contact us today!
